Words from Home...

Perry Hancock, Ph.D.
President & CEO

"It's different but it's good!" That's what I shared with you last summer as we began dealing with the Covid crisis. Summer 2021 has also been different but good. Construction delays prevented us from opening our new recreation center but the children have enjoyed all sorts of great activities. We provided special outdoor sports on campus. The children enjoyed VBS in our local churches and they have wonderful memories of cottage vacations.

The good news is that the recreation center will be open in just a few weeks. The children will be able to enjoy games in the main court areas and cool off in the new swimming pool. The facility also includes a gift room for those Christmas and birthday gifts that you provide. We have also been able to renovate the game room which is adjacent to the new facility. It will have new indoor play equipment for the children and a workout room for our staff.

Our final family care cottage is also under construction. The facility will complete a cul-de-sac of three cottages which provide residence for homeless children and their mothers. Our HomePlace ministry is truly making a significant impact on those families.

I am also excited to announce that our Minister Care Transitional Living ministry will resume offering services in September. The renovation of our minister care cottage is almost complete. The program provides support for terminated Louisiana Baptist minister families, furloughing missionaries, and other ministers in need of transitional housing. All services are provided at no cost. You can read more about the program in this edition of the Home News on page six. You can also visit our website for more details.

We are so excited about the opportunities God is providing through our diverse group of ministries. Christian Women's Job Corps is helping many of our HomePlace mothers and others complete their high school education and move toward independence. Our Granberry Counseling Centers are restoring families through professional Christian counseling. Connect 1:27 is reaching couples who are called to Foster Care and Adoption ministries. Compassion for Kids is providing life essentials for hundreds of children in need through partnerships with local churches. Our Orphans Embrace ministry is reaching the next generation in Haiti through our orphanage and school. Through all our programs 1,000s are being served and many are accepting Christ as Savior.

Thank you so much for your generous and faithful support. It is through your gifts that we will continue to provide love, care, and hope in Christ for children and families in need. God bless you all.

Campus Spotlight...

Ally Smith —"God got her!"

By Debbie Robertson, HomeNews Writer and
Tami Wright, HomPlace Cottage Care Manager

Ally was introduced to The HomeNews readers last fall. She says that "it was because of God's plan" that she was able to join the LBCH family in February 2020, seeking shelter and a better future for herself and son James. Tami Wright, Relief Cottage Manager, remembers her initial meeting with Ally:

"As one of my rotations on duty at Maggie's Cottage began, I was told that I needed to go to pick up a new family that would be entering our program. All I knew was her name, that she had a one-year-old son, (James) and the address I was to pick her up from.

"That day, I met Ally. I picked her up from a mobile home that was not in the best shape. She had ended a relationship and moved in with friends. Her 'safe place' was not the cleanest environment, and there were a couple of large dogs that were a little scary. My first impression of this mom was a scared, shy, soft-spoken young lady. I can only imagine the thoughts and fears she was battling as she left everything she knew to get into that van with me. We made our way back to campus and I remember thinking that I hoped we could get this meek, quiet mom to trust us."

Wright continues, "The first few days for a new family are always tough. They are only allowed to bring some clothes and a few belongings. Everything must be gone through and cleaned before coming into the cottage. Can you imagine having very little and then having to go through it all, seeing just how little you have, while also adjusting to a new place with new rules and structure that are completely foreign? That's what we ask of the ladies who come here to be helped. There are really good reasons for this, but it is still tough for them. I remember praying for Ally as she struggled through the first days."

Ally confirms that she was so shy and so afraid, she could not even make eye contact with Tami, but adds, "Ms. Tami was the right person for the job."

Tami and Ally spent a lot of time getting acquainted that first week. Says Tami, "Ally was so skittish that the only time I even remember her making eye contact with me was when she said, 'Ms. Tami, I need you to know that you are talking to a professed atheist.'"

Ally recalls Tami's response to that, "I hear you. I want you to know that I respect your decision, but that will never change my story. And the cool thing is, I don't even have to convince you about God. The Scripture says that when God is ready for you, He will chase you like a roaring lion. My only job is to love you as you are and continue to speak truth to you." Tami continued loving on Ally, praying for her, and helping her navigate the HomePlace Ministry program.

Then came COVID, the Easter tornado…. Tami recalls that several things happened that were triggers for Ally's past. In June, Tami was shocked when Ally asked if she could pray for Tami and her aunt who was in the hospital with COVID. When Tami asked Ally what had happened, Ally responded, "That roaring lion thing was true. God is real and I'm getting to know Him."

Ally pushed forward throughout the pandemic, completing the state's adult learning program (HISET) with high scores, earning her diploma. She worked at three jobs, saving to pay cash for her first vehicle. In spite of illness, surgery, and with a toddler to care for, Ally was determined to reach all of her goals.

Ally enrolled in an 18-month program to earn a certified optician license while working as an optician. "It is very helpful to get this experience while I'm working on my license, and it also helps pay for my education, which is really great." Her ultimate goal is to work as an ocularist—handcrafting and painting prosthetic eyes.

During this time Ally continued growing in her faith, building her relationship with Christ. Tami shares, "In the fall, she made her public profession of faith in a very big way during a service at North Monroe Baptist Church. Our men had just come back from a weekend retreat and God had moved! The leader of the retreat showed us the bell they had used to signal God's breaking through. There were 18 baptisms that morning, and we had a spiritually charged service. Our pastor had finished his sermon. As in many churches today, there is no formal invitation. People who want to make a profession of faith or join the church can talk with a pastor to the side of the auditorium after the service. Pastor Bill said, 'Salvation can be as easy as ringing this bell. You just say to God, 'All I know of me, I give to all I know of You.' And we can help you take it from there.'

'There was a rattle from the bleachers. Someone was practically running to the front to ring that bell. It was Ally! Shy, meek Ally couldn't wait a minute longer. She wanted to make her decision to follow God known and she did it in rare form, in front of 1500+ people!"

Ally smiles as she shares her thoughts at that moment. She was sitting upstairs in the back, "as far as you can be from the platform." When the invitation began, she knew she wanted to share her faith; she wanted to ring that bell! Ally's plan was to do it privately, after everyone had left. "But my heart started pounding and I knew I had to go right then," she says. She had no doubt that she had to be obedient in sharing her decision publicly, and she ran to the front to ring the bell.

Ally has been surprised at the number of people touched by that service, and she's had an opportunity to share her faith as others want to know more about her story and her relationship with Jesus Christ. She's thankful for any opportunity to share her faith with others who need hope and encouragement, and she has a powerful story of God at work in her life. She's thankful for HomePlace team members such as Tami and Kathy LaCaze, "who was the right cottage manager for me." She's had the assurance that God put all the right people around her at the right times and that "they love all the moms and families unconditionally. They live out their faith."

Today, Ally is a very confident, joy-filled young lady. She has worked hard in the HomePlace Ministry program, moving from Maggie's Place to an apartment on Campus, and she's now about to graduate into independent living in a duplex. She and James are actively involved at North Monroe Baptist Church. Ally loves her Life Group, which truly provides friendship and support. She considers this group to be family to her and to James, and they have demonstrated the true meaning of biblical fellowship as they helped Ally find her apartment, appliances and furniture.

Ally continues to cling to a favorite scripture, Proverbs 3:17, "Her ways are pleasant, and all her paths, peaceful." She has found true peace, even in the midst of trials. She has another surgery planned in the near future. In transitioning to her apartment and coming close to the end of her optician training, the optical office where she has been working has closed. That means her on-the-job training and the financial aid for her classes have ended—at least for now. She has been reassigned to a job in another field with a cut in pay. She knows this probably means finding an additional job to make ends meet. But in spite of these things, Ally remains confident that God has a plan for her. "It's all okay. I know that something will work out soon for me to return to my training and reaching my goal. In the past, I might have been stressing out thinking about that and about surgery. But in the last year, …. well, it makes me think about how the boiling water that softens a potato also makes eggs get firm. Life is about how I respond to what happens to me. I want to be a good mom and take care of my son first of all. And I am going to get back on track with my education and career goals. He is in control and I have to give it to Him."

As Tami says, "God got her," and it will be exciting to see how He uses Ally and her story to reach others.

Granberry Welcomes New Counselor...

We are pleased to introduce Janna Carroll as our newest addition to Granberry Counseling Centers. Janna is currently a Provisional Licensed Professional Counselor and anticipates being a fully Licensed Professional Counselor by September 2021. Janna earned a Bachelor of Music Education degree from Dallas Baptist University in 2014, and a Master of Arts degree in counseling with specialization in marriage and family therapy from New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary in 2019. Janna has a heart to help people who are hurting and looking for relief, change, and hope. Janna has been trained as a TBRI (Trust Based Relational Interventions) practitioner and is currently working towards her certification in EMDR (Eye Movement Desensitization and Reprocessing). Janna has been trained in a wide variety of other therapies as well, including Cognitive Behavioral Therapy, Brief Solution Focused, Structural Dissociation, and Family Systems. She works with adults, children, couples, foster and adoptive families, and adolescents dealing with trauma, dissociative disorders, anxiety, depression, and a variety of other issues. Janna serves in the Granberry offices in Monroe and Ruston. You may book an appointment with Janna directly at 318-450-4660 or call the Granberry office at 318-345-8200.

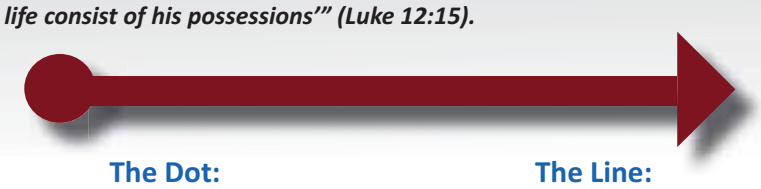
Let's Keep Our Eyes On Eternity

"Then He [Jesus] said to them, 'Beware, and be on your guard against every form of greed; for not even when one has an abundance does his life consist of his possessions'" (Luke 12:15).



Christians understand that Christ asks us to give, and to give generously to the work of His kingdom. The apostle Paul, speaking to the Ephesian elders, tells us that it was the Lord Jesus Himself who said, "It is more blessed to give than to receive" (Acts 20:35).

So why do so many who name the name of Christ find it so difficult to give, and to give generously? A recent national survey found that Christians are giving at 2.5% of their income; during the Great Depression it was 3.3%.

There can be many roadblocks to generous giving: unbelief, insecurity, pride, idolatry, desire for power and control. Our consumer-oriented culture considers it "normal" to keep more for ourselves.

Randy Alcorn states in his book, The Treasure Principle, that the greatest deterrent to generous giving is this: the illusion that earth is our home. As Christians, we must remember that heaven, not earth, is our home.

Paul reminds us that "our citizenship is in heaven. And we eagerly await a Savior from there, the Lord Jesus Christ" (Philippians 3:20).

In writing the great "hall of faith" chapter, the author of Hebrews states, "All these people were still living by faith when they died. They did not receive the things promised; they only saw them and welcomed them from a distance, admitting that they were foreigners and strangers on earth. People who say such things show that they are looking for a country of their own. If they had been thinking of the country they had left, they would have had opportunity to return. Instead, they were longing for a better country—a heavenly one. Therefore, God is not ashamed to be called their God, for he has prepared a city for them" (Hebrews 11:13-16).

Where we choose to store our treasures depends largely on where we think our home is. Randy Alcorn has a simple, but profound way to illustrate this point. Think of it in terms of a dot and a line. Our lives have two phases: one a dot, the other a line extending out from that dot.

Our present life on earth is the dot. It begins, it ends, and it's brief. But from that dot extends a line that goes on forever. That line is eternity, which Christians will spend in heaven.

Right now, we are living in the dot. But what are we living for? With an earthly perspective, one lives for the dot. With an eternal perspective, one lives for the line. The person who lives for the dot lives for treasures on earth, all of which will one day be left behind. The person who lives for the line lives for treasures in heaven that will never end. Truly generous giving is living for the line.

I am grateful for our many "friends of children" who live for the line. Thank you for making eternal investments in the lives of children in need as you store up treasures in heaven. May we all keep our eyes on eternity.

Fresh Sweet Corn Anyone?...

Dr. Justin Clark, pastor of FBC Lake Providence and current LBCH trustee, has been blessing our campus with a truckload of yellow sweet corn for the past several years. Thanks to the generosity of Thornton Farms of Transylvania, many of our children get to try fresh corn on the cobb for the first time, and there's enough of the sweet yellow treat for our staff to enjoy as well. Thank you Pastor Clark and friends at Thornton Farms for making this possible!

Lake D'Arbonne Chapel Is Top Children's Home Sunday Giving Church...

Lake D'arbonne Chapel is a wonderful ministry located on beautiful Lake D'arbonne in Farmerville. The chapel offers Sunday worship services from Easter through September for residents and guests from the surrounding lake community. Dr. Perry Hancock is a regular guest speaker at the chapel, and every year this vibrant congregation participates in our annual Children's Home Sunday Offering. They are consistently among the Top Ten giving churches to our annual offering. This year they were number one! Dr. Hancock presented Robert Dawkins, former LBCH attorney, with a recognition plaque expressing our deep appreciation for the chapel's continuing generosity to the children and families we serve. Thank you friends at Lake D'arbonne Chapel!

Construction Progress...

Despite many weather and supply delays, construction is moving right along on campus. The new children's recreation center (far right) will be completed and dedicated toward the end of August and Mary's Place, a new HomePlace cottage, will be completed this fall. We are excited about these newest facilities that God has provided and look forward to filling them with children!

Back-to-School!

Dear Friend of Children,

Of all the wonderful things happening on campus during the summer, the thing I enjoy most is the joy I see in our children. Their laughter is incredible to me. With all the adversity and heartache that most of them have faced, it is truly a miracle to see them enjoying life.

The joy and laughter of our children may be the best sign of what you are really doing for them – helping them to be just normal kids who have all the physical, emotional, and spiritual support they need to enjoy life at a place they can call Home. Thank you so much!

As we prepare our children for a new school year, will you prayerfully consider a generous Back-to-School gift? Please know what a difference you are making in children like Caleb* and Cara*.

This brother and sister duo came into our care recently. They had lived with different family members and friends across three states. They have an absentee mother due to an ongoing drug addiction. With no father in their lives, they were practically raising themselves. They have been exposed to many forms of neglect and abuse. Their future did not look promising.

You are changing that! You are giving them a future filled with hope. In the first few days with us, you could see the relief on their faces. They have their own rooms, plenty to eat, new clothes, and cottage parents who care for them and love them unconditionally. Thank you for making this possible!

Caleb and Cara are excited about the new school year. You are providing them with the safe, caring home they have needed for several years. They will have tutors to help them catch up academically. You are giving them the opportunity to learn about Jesus and His great love for them. You are helping them to be just normal kids.

Please remember to pray our children as they return to the classroom. I cannot thank you enough for providing this life-changing ministry for children in need!

Become a HOPEBuilder!

HopeBuilders: A Special Group of Heroes to Children in Need

Heroes protect the vulnerable, restore the broken, and bring hope in desperate situations. Every child who has been neglected, abused, or abandoned needs a hero. Our HopeBuilder Monthly Sponsor Ministry gives YOU the opportunity to be a hero to children in need.

When you become a "HopeBuilder," you join a special group of people making monthly investments in the lives of precious children, providing them with love, care, and hope in Christ. God uses HopeBuilders to rebuild the foundation of trust and hope in the lives of children who come to us from hard places in life. Jeremiah 29:11 is the foundational verse for our HopeBuilders ministry: "For I know the plans I have for you," declares the LORD, "plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future."

Christian Women's Job Corps of Monroe...

Over a Decade of Meeting Needs and Changing Lives!

Tonya Hancock, CWJC Executive Director

Christian Women's Job Corps of Monroe (CWJC) was started in January 2010 as a ministry of the Children's Home. The original purpose was for ladies in our HomePlace Residential Family Care program to have the opportunity for Bible study, life skills, and job skills training. We were soon led to open the program to women in the surrounding community. We partnered with Monroe Housing Authority and worked with many of their residents. We were contacted by Delta Community College Adult Education Department to partner with them to offer the GED/HiSET program. Through the years over 450 women have come through our classes.

It has been such a blessing to work with our ladies, to show them that God has plans for their lives, plans to give them hope and a future based on our theme verse, Jeremiah 29:11. Many of our students have been told that their lives are a mistake, many have been abused, left hungry and homeless. We are told over and over that when they walk through the front door of our beautiful Learning Center, they feel peace, they feel love. We share with them that God loves them, and we love them. We desire to walk hand in hand with them on their journey of reaching their goals to have a better life for themselves and their families.

It is amazing to witness how God meets needs and changes lives through our CWJC ministry. Here are a couple of examples:

MeiAsia knocked on our door one morning. I welcomed her into the class. She told me that she wanted to get her GED/HiSET. A few days after she started class, I noticed she looked tired most mornings and seemed hungry at break time. After talking with her, I discovered that she was homeless, living under a bridge in Monroe. She said she was afraid to lie down at night, so she would prop herself up and try to sleep standing up.

Mei'Asia Smith

We worked with MeiAsia and eventually found housing for her. She continued to attend CWJC and work toward completing her GED/HiSET. We hired her to be a WorldCraft Artisan making products for the National WMU. We noticed how she paid attention during Bible study time and asked questions. She would also ask for prayer during prayer time. As we worked together in WorldCrafts, we prayed for each person who would purchase our products. We asked God to bless their lives and thanked Him for them purchasing our products. One day MeiAsia asked me to explain to her how to become a Christian. I shared the gospel with her, and she asked Christ into her heart and began attending church. She is now married with a daughter and living in Texas with her family.

Danielle knocked on our door one morning. I opened the door and welcomed her in. She was pleasant and asked about our program. She began working toward her GED/HiSET. After a week of class, we discovered that she was homeless and living in her car with her 15-year-old son. We shared with her about our HomePlace program for Homeless women and their children. She applied and was accepted into HomePlace.

Danielle worked hard and obtained her GED/HiSET. She received the Sybil Bently Dove Award from the National WMU, an award to benefit women who are rebuilding their lives. She is now living with her son in Oklahoma and manages a FedEx Office. Her son completed high school and works for Amazon. They both love the Lord and attend church regularly.

"For I know the plans I have for you," declares the LORD, "plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future" (Jeremiah 29:11).

LBCH Reopening Minister Residental Care Program...

For many years, Louisiana Baptist Children's Home has provided the Minister Care program through its Granberry Counseling Centers in partnership with the LBC Pastoral Leadership Team. The program has offered professional Christian counseling for LBC ministers, spouses, and their dependent children at no cost.

In 2018 the Children's Home expanded the Minister Care Program to include transitional housing for terminated LBC minister families and furloughed SBC missionary families. Unfortunately, when the Covid crisis began, those placements were halted.

Starting September 1, 2021, the Children's Home will reopen the Minister Care Residential Program for terminated ministers. Housing will also be offered to IMB missionaries on stateside assignment and IMB missionaries returning or retiring from the mission field.

David, Jaime, Emma, and Molly Rhymes

David Rhymes, returning IMB missionary, shares, "What began as a normal stateside assignment from the mission field turned into a period of transition and uncertainty. God used our Louisiana Baptist Children's Home to provide our family a place to live while we prayerfully sought the Spirit's guidance. What a blessing! Of all the things we needed to process during this season of life, housing was not one of them. This allowed us to focus on our family and feel a sense of normalcy. We are forever grateful to LBCH for serving our family in this way."

The Minister Care Residential Program includes the provision of an apartment on the Children's Home campus in Monroe for up to one year at no cost. Apartments will be available September 1, 2021. Additional information and applications for this ministry are available at LBCH.ORG.

"We are excited once again to provide the services of our Minister Care Residential Program. Our campus is a wonderful place for ministers to rest and seek God's direction as they prepare for the future," said Dr. Perry Hancock, LBCH President & CEO.

Kerri Byrd, LCSW
Foster & Adoption Specialist

My pastor, Dr. Gevan Spinney of First Baptist Church of Haughton, recently discussed the passage in Mark 2 that tells the story of a man who was brought to Jesus through the roof of a building. He discussed the barriers that prevented the men from entering the building, and how their determination to reach Jesus led them to enter the building through the roof. During the sermon, Dr. Spinney shared a quote in reference to this passage from Dr. Jack Graham, pastor of Prestonwood Baptist Church in Plano, Texas: "We all are to bring all people to Jesus by all means, at all cost." In other words, we should be relentless in our pursuit of sharing the Gospel and consider all options available.

The goal of foster care ministry is to bring people to Jesus- whether that is introducing them to the Gospel for the first time in their lives or pointing them towards Jesus when they are struggling. Our churches should be a safe place for families and children in foster care to heal and find hope. Foster Parents' Night Out, foster parent trainings, adoption support groups, birth family support groups, and parenting classes invite your community's foster families, adoptive families, birth families, and children in foster care into your church. Foster care ministry provides an opportunity for families, who otherwise may not have walked through the doors of your church, to hear the Gospel and become a part of a community of believers who can support them for years to come.

The Connect 1:27 team would love to help your church develop a plan for ministering to your local foster care community and provide support throughout your journey into foster care ministry. Visit Connect127.org to connect with the foster care and adoption specialist in your area!

Highlights from HomePlace...

Summer will soon be a distance memory, but in HomePlace, there's no time to linger over seasons past. We're already preparing for Fall, football, and the back-to-school routine. I should be honest – I'm really preparing for the approaching football season!

But seriously, HomePlace is organizing now for a busy Fall ministry season. Our "HomePlace Together" programs will start back in September. This is a great time of fellowship with our moms. We provide childcare to give our mons an evening out. They have an opportunity to relax, get to know one another, engage in a fun activity, and enjoy a great meal prepared by our HomePlace staff.

We are almost at capacity which is also very exciting. The Cottage Care Managers are welcoming new moms and their children to HomePlace with outstretched arms, ready to pour into their lives. Our leadership team has a combined total of over 40 years' experience working in HomePlace. They know how to love and care for these families.

We have children who will begin their academic journey, moms who will work to complete requirements to receive their high school diploma in our Christian Women's Job Corps program, and other moms who will be starting new jobs. All our families are working toward accomplishing their individual goals. It will be a very busy season of ministry.

When I tell people about HomePlace, they always ask how they can help. First and foremost, I would ask you to continue to pray for our program. The HomePlace staff have an opportunity to demonstrate unconditional love and guidance as these families begin the process of rebuilding their lives.

I would also encourage you to go to our website at www.LBCH.ORG. There you will find other ways to support HomePlace and all the ministries of the Louisiana Baptist Children's Home. Go HomePlace!

Celebrating big events and little moments at HomePlace!

HomePlace is a transitional living program offering compassionate care for homeless children and mothers. For more information, call 318.343.2244.

HOMENEWS

A Publication of Your Louisiana Baptist Children's Home & Family Ministries

Louisiana Baptist Children's Home & Family Ministries is a faith-based 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization dedicated to providing love, care, and hope in Christ for children and families in need. Established in 1899, the Children's Home is an agency of the Louisiana Baptist Convention and is governed by a 17-member board of trustees elected by the Convention to serve three-year terms on a rotating basis.

The Children's Home is recognized by the Louisiana Department of Children and Family Services (DCFS) as a "Foster Care Community." Most of the children in LBCH foster homes are placed by DCFS and the other children are privately placed by a legal guardian.

The Children's Home receives no state or federal funding. Approximately 80% of all funding comes from individuals and churches. Less than 23% of funding goes to administrative costs; 77% goes to direct ministry services. Less than 6% of funding comes from payment of services.

Our major service areas include: Residential Child Care for Children ages 5-17; Pathfinders Transitional Living for ages 18-21; HomePlace Residential Family Care for Homeless Children and Mothers; Christian Women's Job Corps of Monroe providing job and life skills training and certified HiSET preparation and testing; Granberry Counseling Centers with 12 statewide locations; Connect 1:27 Foster Care & Adoption Ministries; and Orphans Embrace International Orphan Care Mission Trips.

Our dedicated Christian ministry team strives to offer the highest quality of services. Services are provided without regard to race, gender, religion, or ability to pay.
